PA NEW OBSERVES

Speaking of antiques, you should see a chair owned by Squire and Mrs. James Glover, of Wampum.
The chair is a rocker, brought to America from Ireland, over 100 years ago by Mrs. Irish, wife of the late Captain Irish, of New Castle.
It was presented to the Glover's many years ago, and is apparently in as good condition as when it was made. The chair is beautifully hand-carved, the sides of the back extending above the head rest, like an old-fashioned bedstead.

Misses Anna and Laura Thompson, of New Wilmington, told Young Pa News that as they were driving towards New Castle from New Wilmington, Saturday afternoon, they were thrilled by the sight of four deer crossing the highway, near Wilmington Junction. The animals, all of the female species, reached
the highway from a field, stopped, looked and then dashed across the cement to another field.

Numerous auto accidents along highways are being reported in which children apparently dart out in front of cars, or into the side of the car. Parents should caution their children frequently about this danger, as an auto driver in many instances is unable to prevent an accident.

Street sign erection is starting on North Jefferson street today, Pa
New is informed. This RWD project is moving right along.

Loss Of "Maxim Gorky" A Major Tragedy Of The Air

A stunning training plane struck the wing of the giant Soviet propaganda plane "Maxim Gorky", as it flew near Moscow, and thirty-six passengers who were being taken on a "joy ride" were plunged to their death, as the great ship—largest land plane in the world—plunged to destruction. Eleven members of the crew of the "Gorky" and the pilot of the training plane, who was responsible for the accident, had been ordered not to stunt.

Blame Soviet Pilot For Causing Wreck Of Huge Gorky Plane

By LINDESEY PARROTT
International News Service Staff

MOSCOW, May 20.—A fit of pique on the part of Nikolai Pavlovitch Blagin, veteran Soviet training pilot, caused the wreck of the Maxim Gorky, world's largest land plane, with the appalling loss of 40 lives. It was revealed today as the victims were accorded a state funeral.
Vladimir Rybushkin, who piloted
the ship which filmed the Maxim Gorky's last flight and saw Blagin, stuntling in defiance of official regulations, crash into the wing of the giant plane, told the dramatic story.

Told Not To Stunt
Before the Maxim Gorky took off
the 48 persons, including 37 civilians, aboard, Blagin had been ordered not to stunt in its vicinity, and the latter resented the instructions.
Rybushkin revealed he overheard Blagin say to Nikolai Mikheev, one of the Maxim Gorky's pilots:
"I'm not a child. I've been a flier for 15 years."
At least one bystander was in-

Five Senators Walk Out On Dennis Chavez

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Five progressive senators walked out of the chamber this afternoon when Dennis Chavez (D) New Mexico,
was sworn into the Senate to succeed the late Senator Bronson Cutting (R), killed in an airplane crash
in Missouri.
The progressives, who refused to watch Chavez take the oath were Senators Johnson (R), California;
Nye (R), North Dakota; Norris (R),
Nebraska; Shipstead (FL) Minnesota, and LaFollette (P), Wisconsin. They left the chamber in protest against the appointment of Chavez.

The progressives objected to Chavez succeeding Cutting because the two men were bitter personal enemies, having opposed each other for the Senate last November. At the time of Cutting's death Chavez was contesting Cutting's election.

Woman Hurt As Car Leaves Road

Mrs. Mary Johnson, Of Avalon,
In Jameson Hospital With Scalp Injuries

Mrs. Mary Johnson of Avalon, Pa., is in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering with severe lacerations of the scalp, and bruises about the face and chest, which she was received when the car in which she was a passenger left the highway at Parktown Corners and struck a telephone pole, at 9 o'clock last evening.
Her companion, William W. Powell of 100 Maydite street, Pittsburgh, was also admitted to the hospital for observation, but is not believed to have sustained any serious injury.
Mrs. Johnson was brought to the hospital by Vic Hoye of 20 Mills way.

Expect Early Bids For Work

District Army Engineer At Pittsburgh Prepares Preliminaries For Canal

WORK IN VIEW
AT NEW BRIGHTON

Announcement has been made at Youngstown by Major W. C. Styer, district army engineer, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, that advertisements for the first bids in the work on the canal from Beaver to Struthers will be published as soon as the specifications are completed, which is expected to be done this week.

Anticipating the allotment for the canal, Major Styer had previously ordered the completion of surveys for locks 1-B and 2-B, at New Brighton, and one mile above. These will be completed early this week.
Advertisements will be issued for bids on borings to determine the subsoil conditions for lock foundations, and for a dredge to begin clearing out the lower Beaver so that equipment may be floated to the lock site.

Major Styer has announced that the canal will be built as specified.

Harrisburg Is In Uproar As Deer Run Wild

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 20.—
Uproar in Harrisburg was thrown into an uproar today when three deer, a buck
and two does, invaded homes
and emulated the proverbial
bull in the china shop.
Leaving behind a trail of broken glass, one wrecked living room and intense excitement, the deer scampered back to the mountains, one of them apparently injured.

One of the does bounded through a screen and window into the living room at the home of A. G. Keener, a William Penn high school teacher. Another hurled itself against a front window, six feet from the ground at the residence of G. E. Shade.
At the Keener home the excited animal wrecked a stand lamp, damaged a writing desk and overturned other articles of furniture before it escaped through the front door. Cut by the window glass
the deer left a trail of blood
as it dashed into the street
after its companions.

Leon A. Luttringer, Jr., of the state game commission, said the animals evidently were attracted by their reflections in the windows.

Orchestra Home From Madison

Creditable Showing Is Made
By Senior High In Competition

SOLOISTS ALSO PERFORM WELL

Senior high school's class A orchestra, competing against 21 other class A orchestras from all parts of the nation, shared fourth division honors with an orchestra representing East high school, Madison, in the sixth annual national orchestra contest at Madison, Wis., on Saturday afternoon.

Although "championships" are not officially awarded in the competition, orchestras in division one usually claim the national title. Lane
Technical high, Chicago; John Adams high, Cleveland, and Cleveland Heights high of Cleveland, shared this "class A" distinction.

Two in Third Division.
Two of senior high school's soloists, Charles Coulter and Gilbert Colnot, won ratings in the third division in their contests. Coulter was competing in the baritone horn event
and Colnot in the bassoon solo event.
Roger Pecano, entered in the clarinet event, faced stiff competition from 58 other contestants and in a tough race won a small margin.

Seniors Romp In Class Celebration

Senior High's June Class
Whoops Up Fun As Commencement Nears

PASSING AFTERNOON
AT AMUSEMENT PARK

"Senior Day," the day of days for graduating high school students, was being celebrated with traditional gaiety today by the host of Senior high school students who will be handed diplomas early in June when the school formally graduates
the largest body of seniors it has been for many a year.

Morning hours were lagged away
in a hilarious Class Day program held at Senior high school and this afternoon the happy seniors, attired in the gayest of blue and white clothes to be found, were romping
the time away at Stoughton's Beach,
not far from Slippery Rock.

With the seniors this afternoon were a group of faculty supervisors headed by their own class supervisor, Miss Virginia Weinschenk.
No school bothered the graduates-
to-be today for Principal Frank L.
Orth, as on other senior holidays,
had excused all the students from their classes.

The remainder of the school students attended today's assembly but returned to their studies as soon as it was finished. Many parents and outside friends also witnessed it.

Took A Trip In The Skies
To exhibit their talent to their schoolmates, from whom they will soon be parted, the seniors today staged a chapel which took the form of a trip to Mars, Venus and Jupiter. Willie Leonhardt was chairman of the committee while his right hand aides were Viola Dufford, Joshua Kaplan and Paul Griffith.
Joshua Kaplan recited a comical

Resume Operations At Crescent Cement Plant

Three hundred cement workers of the Crescent Portland Cement plant of the Medusa Corporation, at Cres-centdale, went back to work this morning when production was resumed after a long shutdown. The run this year will probably be much longer than it has been in previous years according to W. P. Rice, superintendent, and the outlook for the summer and fall months is most encouraging.

In the awarding of contracts for cement for the Tygart Dam in West Virginia, the Crescent Company was given a large portion of the order and the cement for this project will be one of the orders manufactured in Crescentdale.

For the present the plant will operate on a three eight hours shift day, with production at approximately two thirds. This will mean 3500 barrels of cement per day.
In the past six weeks extensive repairs to plant and equipment have been made. Kilns have been relin-ed and added and the plant made ready for a long run. Its resumption will be a spur to business not alone in Wampum but in other parts of the county.

(Special To The News)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 20.
—That was a terrible thing about that big Russian plane. I saw it when I was there. They said themselves over there that it had never been much success as far as flying. But Russia is just at that stage like we used to be where they want the "biggest" of everything. So it made good "reading" when they would write how big it was.

It was a warehouse with six engines on it. They could jack it up and get it above the field in Moscow, but I don't think it had ever been out of town. The great sport in Russia is parachute jumping. They used to take half the town up in this and let 'em jump.
But don't get the impression that all the planes there can't get out of town. It's the most air ambitious nation in the world, and those old "Russians"
can fly.

Church Is Given
Thousand Dollars

The Late Clyde Jones Sankey
Leaves Bequest To Central Presbyterian Church

Dr. C. E. Wingerd announced to the congregation assembled Sunday morning that the late Clyde Jones Sankey had left the Central Presbyterian church one thousand dollars, as a memorial to his father.
The announcement came through the courtesy of his brother, Fred B.
Sankey.

It is an unusual co-incidence that very recently Jos. S. Rice, of Jos. S.
Rice Company, a boyhood friend of Clyde J. Sankey, also left the church a thousand dollars. They grew up in the same Sunday school class and passed to their reward in the same year.

Dr. Wingerd in behalf of the trustees expressed the utmost appreciation of the congregation for the life long devotion of the donors to the church of their childhood and the thoughtful consideration of loved ones who had carried out their last requests.

Consistory To Have Reunion At Cathedral

Annual Spring Reunion Opens Wednesday With
Many Special Events

DARIUS WILL BE GIVEN ON FRIDAY

An old-fashioned reunion of the pre-depression type, will be held this week by the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., which will be featured by a number of special attractions.
The reunion opens Wednesday morning, and will close on Friday evening with the presentation of the mammoth stage spectacle, Darius,
for members and their families only.
Dancing will follow the play.

Another special event on the program is the presentation of the 31 and 32 degrees, after the manner of the Dominion of Canada, which will be presented by the members of the Legion of Honor, under the direction of Edward C. Pritchard. This is for members only.

Friday will be observed as Ladies'
Day, when a special program of entertainment will be provided for the ladies and in addition to this, there will be golf for the visiting brethren
at the Field Club.
There will be a dinner Friday evening for members and their ladies, preceding the presentation of Darius, and following the drama,
dancing will be enjoyed.

Indications point to the fact that the coming reunion will be largely attended and Commander in Chief J. Edwin White, and his committees are working hard to make this reunion one of the most entertaining that has been held in a number of years.

MRS. EARLE'S CAR IS SIDESWIPED

Two Are Held For Accident

Wife Of Governor Escapes Injury Near Middleton, Dauphin County

CAR IS ALMOST UPSET IN MISHAP

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 20.—Two men were held by state highway patrolmen today as the occupants of a machine which sideswiped the car of Mrs. George H. Earle, wife of the governor, near Middleton, Dauphin county, Saturday, almost upsetting her automobile.

The Earle machine, driven by John Toner, the family chauffeur, was thrown up on two wheels by the impact. Mrs. Earle was shaken but unhurt.

Police said the men, A. K. Carpenter, driver, and George W. Coyne, employees of the Masonic home at Elizabethtown, admitted striking Mrs. Earle's car, but they did not stop because the other machine had done likewise. The Earle car was brought to a halt by Toner and it was necessary to straighten a fender before the journey to Harrisburg could be resumed.

BODY OF MISSING NEW YORK GIRL IS FOUND NEAR HOME

caused a report that the child had been murdered.

The pretty child's body was buried under loose gravel, dirt and debris. A bit of her red dress protruded and it was this that caught the eyes of several searchers who were members of a party of apartment house superintendents of the neighborhood, relief workers, and Shirley's playmates, directed by police.

Slight Cave-In

A slight cave-in indicated that it would have been possible for Shirley to have fallen to her death. She lay in a crouched position, her face pressed to the ground, her knees drawn up under her. Her back was directly against a concrete foundation, about four feet from the surface.

The position of the body was against a theory of accidental death. Detectives who first saw the body in that position were inclined to the opinion that Shirley had been murdered and possibly had been the victim of a criminal assault.

The excavation, scene of many a game by neighborhood children, is almost directly behind the home of Shirley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Evans, both of whom are graduates of Bucknell College.

The search for Shirley had been conducted with increasing intensity since Saturday morning, after her parents had spent Friday night frantically wondering what had happened to their daughter.

Second Search Of Scene

A striking feature of the finding of the body was that the excavation already had been the scene of a search for the child, though upon the previous occasion the search was not so thorough as today's.

It was a neighbor who urged today's search, Taylor Pugey, Jr., an instructor at New York University, who has a small son who has played in the excavation, noted that there had been a cave-in. It developed to be just over the spot where the body was found.

Evans was pacing the floor of his home, as he had done almost continuously since Friday night, when he received word that the body of his child had been found. He took the news to his wife, who screamed, "Oh, my God!" and then fainted.

The father was firm in his conviction that the child's death was not due to an accident, but to a murder. "It wasn't an accident," he said. "Surely, Shirley would not have played around there alone. If others were with her they would have known where she was and would have told us."

it at the White House during the day.

President Is Firm

The final move for White House support, however, was doomed to failure before it got under way. Mr. Roosevelt returned from a week-end fishing trip as much as ever convinced against the wisdom of paying the bonus with a new issue of currency as provided in the bill passed by both houses of congress. He announced he would use "the most emphatic language at my command."

These developments marked the only surface indications of the bitter undercurrent battle that marked the final 48 hours of the bonus fight.

To Go Before Congress

Wednesday the president will personally before congress and deliver his veto message. Almost immediately thereafter, the two houses will vote on motions to override the executive. A two-thirds majority is necessary to write legislation into law over presidential disapproval.

In the house the two-thirds majority for the bonus will roll through with votes to spare. The senate is ready to support the president by a narrow margin. This will kill the Patman bonus bill.

Washington, May 20.—A final appeal to President Roosevelt to approve the bonus bill was made at the White House today by its author, Rep. Wright Patman, accompanied by a score of house members.

Mr. Roosevelt listened attentively to the argument advanced by the bonus steering committee, but proceeded with his plans to carry a veto message to congress on Wednesday in person.

jured when the Gorky, crashing in a score of pieces, scattered itself over a Moscow suburb. Ekaterina Nikulina, who was working in her garden at Sokol when the accident occurred, was struck by falling fragments of the plane. She is in a hospital, but is expected to recover.

100,000 Pay Respects

More than 100,000 filed today through the red and black-draped Hall of Columns in Trade Union House to pay their respects to the victims.

The line of mourners extended more than a mile. Inside were urns containing the remains of 42 of the victims already cremated. They were to be inurned in a convent wall with impressive ceremonies.

Josef Stalin led the list of official mourners with condolences to relatives of the victims. Members of the diplomatic corps sent messages and Foreign Minister Pierre Laval of France, who recently visited Moscow, dispatched a sympathetic telegram from Paris.

Meanwhile, the government went forward with plans to build three more planes of the Maxim Gorky type and size. The party newspaper Izvestia asked popular support in the building of "such armaments" as will bring us victory against any adversary.

DELPHINIUMS

At the Cathedral show these, among others, will be featured, and Delphinium Society has commented this year in this way:

"Pure blues are coming back. The double-flowered hybrids crowded out the single varieties and with them went pure blue. New breeders, particularly in England, are working for a double delphinium of pure blue. Duchess of Portland, Daydream, Donald Allan and Blue Gowns are some of the varieties tracing this advance. Breeders are also working on self purples, mauves and lavenders, now comparatively scarce. The red delphinium is in the making, but yellow is yet to come.

"Spikes are undergoing changes. Original spikes were short, cylindrical. The swing is now away from too big and coarse spikes to graceful, airy things. Connoisseurs agree that balance is the thing, whatever the size.

"Many breeders are concentrating on developing resistant varieties. Take these precautions: Give delphiniums a northern exposure to eliminate afternoon sun. If this is impossible, provide shade. Keep the crown cool by heavy mulching. Peat moss is ideal. When the season is dry, drench the soil by putting the hose in the ground and allowing it to run to the saturation point.

Ingals is president of the organization; Mrs. Walter Eckenroed, first vice president; Mrs. William Howley, second vice president; Mrs. Albert Trester, secretary; and Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, corresponding secretary and publicity director for the exhibit.

prologue, "Ode to Imagination," written by Charles Fletcher, a senior, before the show.

Charles Fletcher was the senior who did the "mocking," that traditional snap-shot that seniors are privileged to offer only on Senior Day programs.

Bernard Chill was the court magician and as a product of his magic he drew Willie Leonhardt who did the clowning, and a tap dance accompanied by James Bradford, class president. James Dart was the captain of the Space ship and explorers with him were Olive Broadbent, Betty Bridenbaugh, and Charles Fletcher.

The senior axe switched hands at the close of the chapel exercises, another traditional Senior Day act. The class song was sung to the tune of "The Drunkard's Song" with appropriate variations.

After noon the school lobby was quiet with the celebrating seniors whooping it up at the Slippery Rock amusement park.

of being among the first 30 chosen to compete.

Two ensemble groups of senior high, the French horn quartet and the woodwind quintet, also won ratings in the contest.

The French horn group, competing against a field of 12 other quartets, won fourth division rating. The woodwind quintet, with 15 other quintets competing against it, was awarded a place in the fifth division.

Arrive Sunday Night

Home from the mid-western competition, the party of almost 100 students, aboard a three-car special of the Pennsylvania railroad, arrived from Madison amid cheers of home-folks at the west side depot at 9:31 o'clock last night.

Prof. Joseph F. Replogle, orchestra leader and head of the special party, won warm applause as he detrained, as did his determined corps of students as they followed.

A band of 22 pieces, hurriedly organized by senior high musicians who had remained here, struck up martial airs and the stirring "Hi-Hi Alma Mater" as the train rolled into the depot. The crowd of several hundred unloosed lusty cheers.

While no class A victories had been won, the townspeople who greeted the returning orchestra and soloists knew that Prof. Replogle's competent players had done their best to win renown.

At Old City last April 26 and 27 the Senior high musicians had won the state championships which automatically made them eligible to compete at Madison.

Castell soloists on Saturday were accompanied by talented pianists of the high school.

Accompanying Coulter, who has studied his instrument but a year under the direction of Henry Wilkison, was Harry Schneitzinger, while Dorothy Fisher accompanied Gilbert Colnot and James Fox accompanied Roger Pecano.

Different Judging Basis

In national contests, Prof. Replogle explained today, the judging, handled by musical men of national repute, is based on a method altogether different from the method employed in state contests. Judges rate the competing groups according to a certain "standard" or "par" they set up. Those attaining "par" win Division One recognition, while others are placed accordingly.

At Madison's meet many of the Class A orchestras that took part were representing large city high schools that receive part-time coaching from renowned symphony men. The orchestras play symphonic music as regular work.

We had a fine trip and the boys and girls enjoyed it thoroughly," Mr. Replogle commented. "We found the people of Madison most hospitable."

Overnight accommodations for the local players was provided in the Madison homes.

Aboard the special were Miss Gladys Federan, music teacher at Mahoning school, and John E. Pops, music instructor at Ben Franklin junior high school, who assisted Mr. Replogle in his work of supervision.

The Pennsylvania railroad sent its own students and also sent Edward M. Fisher, its assistant trainmaster and assistant road foreman of engines here, to ride the engine cab from Alliance, O., to New Castle. Fisher also rode the cab to Alliance on the western trip.

From Chicago to Madison the students traveled over the route of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, although they remained in their Pennsy coaches.

International News Service reported that Helen Cousins, Sharon, rated Division One in the viola contest. The Grove City brass sextet was ranged in Division Three in that competition. Bellevue high, of near Pittsburgh, sent its orchestra to compete with the Class B orchestras and it won Division Two rating.

Benefits for the musicians' western trip were promoted by a willing body of parents and other citizens who generously volunteered to high school authorities their efforts in its behalf. Co-operating with them in every undertaking were the high school officials and Mrs. Joseph F. Replogle, wife of the orchestra leader.

So far as was learned here today the musical contest was spared of accidents. A near-tragedy was averted when a group of musicians were rescued from an overturned boat in a Madison lake.

There is too great a difference separating the ordinary practices of society from its professed and conventional creeds.

The STAMP ALBUM

Just where they will move to has not been decided. Reports are current that other coke towns in Fayette county will suffer a similar fate.

RUTH ELINOR MACK IS BRIDE SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mack, of 939 Adams street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Elinor, to James Scheil, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Filer, of Volant R. D. 2, Saturday, May 18, at high noon.

The ceremony was performed at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church on Pearson street, by Rev. Mont Boyd, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church of Marion Hill, Pa., in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was given away in marriage by her father. She was becomingly attired in a blue lace gown with white accessories and carried a bridal bouquet of American Beauty roses and sweet peas. Her sister, Miss Olive Mack, was the maid of honor. She wore a beautiful dress of peach lace, with white accessories, and her arm bouquet was of tea roses.

Lindsay Mack, brother of the bride, served as the best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Pearl Gibbons.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride by Mrs. Charles Robinson and Miss Carrie Hempel. The bride's table was centered by a large wedding cake.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Scheil departed for a short trip. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends at 917 Marshall avenue.

Mrs. Scheil was graduated from New Castle high school in the class of '30 and for the past four years has been employed by the G. C. Murphy Company.

WHO IS PUTTING SAND ON THE TRACK?

ONE of the most interesting charges to be made by Washington statesmen recently is the one which alleges that Republican leaders there are seeking to embarrass the administration by alliances with radicals. Those who make the charge are duly indignant. Evidently they lack either memory or a sense of humor. One only has to go back in memory to the Hoover administration to recall how wholeheartedly the Democrats co-operated with the president to put through his ideas. Never was there a complaint possible. Of course the Democrats didn't flirt with radicals then. They avoided such folks as a European official shuns an American debt collector. If you believe this then you must be a firm believer in Santa Claus.

The bi-partisan support given the present administration as far outshines that accorded Mr. Hoover as a Hollywood day in June outshines a foggy November evening in London.

And charges of this kind are very unfair to the radicals, too. There may be a few off the reservation but most of them are giving the New Deal unflinching support. Some nasty critics are unkind enough to say that if an automobile in Washington ran wildly into a crowd on Pennsylvania avenue, three out of four of those injured would be "liberals."

If any Republican is caught conspiring with radicals like Senator Long he ought of course to be spanked for following the example of many minority leaders back in the Hoover administration.

After all, the NRA and the AAA may have been having trouble but a great deal of criticism seems to be coming from such staunch Democrats as Senators Byrd, Glass, Adams and Bailey, Bainbridge Colby, Jim Reed, and so on. Certainly nobody would accuse these statesmen of combining with any "wild men." In fact, the newspapers the other day quoted a trusty lieutenant of Lieutenant Donald Richberg as stating that such stalwart administration men as Senator Joe Robinson and Senator Pat Harrison are not wholeheartedly for the NRA. Things are getting all scrambled up and we don't understand 'em.

RULE BY PROPAGANDA

This is the day of mass propaganda directed against the principle of representative government. The man who, through hard-fought primary and general election campaigns, has won his way to the senate or house of representatives may hope to do his conscientious duty in the light of the pledges he has given. He has not been in Washington long before the league for this or the union for that—perhaps a combination of the two—is telling him how to vote and threatening him with political demise if he dares disobey.

This is not new, of course. Lobbies there have been for generations. Domination of congress over a long period by lobbies at least was directed only toward their own special "causes." It is only of late that irresponsible agencies, making maximum use of an investigative age for capturing the public ear, have sought to direct general legislation. The barrage of telegrams addressed to President Roosevelt and the senate with reference to the expected veto of the Patman bill is an instance in point. We shall see more of this before we see less.

When one man, or a small group of men, can almost overnight persuade tens of thousands of individuals to write or telegraph their "orders" to the nation's capital, vast and threatening strides in bloc dictation have been made.

Events before, and at immediately subsequent to the 1936 conventions of the two major parties may be without precedent in our history just because these bloc groupings can be made quickly and frequently responsive to stimulus from self-appointed leaders. What effect this will have on convention delegates and post-convention change of political affiliations by those swayed by these leaders can only be conjectured.

ADVICE FROM FAR AND NEAR

We are getting all sorts of predictions as to when and how the Republican party will rejuvenate itself, when and if it does.

Certainly if the party fails in this important task it will not be from lack of advice as to what should make up the declaration of principles. Some of this advice is pretty good and is coming from sources which are far apart geographically and politically. For example, Kenneth Clark recently in a copyrighted article in the Universal News Service mentioned a four point declaration of principles set out by the progressive Republican senator, William E. Borah, of Idaho.

Senator Borah suggested first a foreign policy cutting us loose from all foreign political entanglements; elimination of monopoly, protection of our labor from cheap foreign competition, and last but not least important, the abandonment of the present economic scarcity policy embodied in the principles of the NRA and the AAA crop curtailment program.

Just about the same time Henry P. Fletcher, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican National Committee declared that the Republican party is progressive because it is conservative and outlined, in an article written for the Associated Collegiate Press, four definite changes of government policy, which he evidently believes should be advocated by the Republican party. These changes are:

"1. We must return to a stable currency. Without that there can be no security for any kind of investments.

"2. We must bring our federal expenditures down to within a reasonable distance of our income and the people, through their legislative bodies, must keep control of the public purse strings. The billions of public debt and the interest charges thereon, now being piled up to pay for the socialistic experiments of the 'New Deal,' will have to be paid by the rising generation out of the wages and incomes of tomorrow. The only alternative to this prospect is an orgy of inflation, which would wipe out the savings of every individual in this country.

"3. We must stop using federal funds to set the government up in business in competition with private enterprise.

"4. We must stop the definite movement toward state socialism, which has for its purpose, if not the ownership, at least the rigid governmental control and operation of agriculture, finance, business and industry.

Certainly in the advice of these two men, generally regarded as rather far apart politically, there is a great deal worthy of study by conservatives and progressives alike.

Awful thought! Invading troops might kill 30,000 a year and escape punishment by disguising themselves as fool drivers.

YOU MUST HAVE A CENTER

EVERY MAN, every woman is a center. . . . Sure as you were born, you are a center. . . . A center of growth, a center of activity, a center of being alive.

You can't get away from it. No matter how modest you may be, you are the center of your own thought. This is your brain, these are your hands, this is your life. You cannot strip yourself of them. You must be your own center. . . . This isn't selfishness. This is merely being alive.

We are all collections of centers, and we must accept that fact. A woman's center may be her children. Or it may be popularity. Or keeping her house clean and livable. A man's may be his job. Or his public career. Or golf. Or his good looks. Or for both of them it may be their religious faith, or the well being of humanity—something that seems outside of themselves, but is in fact the profoundest part of their nature.

But sometimes a man loses what he has always considered his most precious possession. His job. His health. His popularity. His faith in his fellows. Or in himself. Or in the value of the work he is doing. . . . And then he is flung back on himself. He feels useless, shriveled, discarded, empty. And life seems futile, frivolous, meaningless, a cheat. His center has been dissipated, is scattered to the winds.

An though he walks the earth in the appearance of a man, he is no man at all, because he has no center. He is lost until he believes again that he has some use in this life. Until he takes responsibility upon his shoulders once more. Until he believes again that he—one little nite among all the people on this earth—has some value, and is needed by other men and women and is doing his share. Unless he regains his own self-respect, he becomes a center of despair and cynicism and defeat—an army of all who know him. . . . He must, to save himself, come back to his own hard, healthy and joyful center again.

THE MAN WHO CLEANS THE FISH

There's one in every group and clan. A willing, happy-hearted man. Who gets the wood and lights the fires.

First quits his bed and last retires. He makes the coffee, fries the ham And opens every jar of jam.

And while a round of bridge we play He cleans the fish we caught that day.

The most of us who fishing go But little of the burdens know. We proudly talk in easy chairs Of rods and reels and lures and snares.

And where the speckled beauties lurk. We love the sport, but not the work! But he knows best what fishing means. Who does the work behind the scenes.

Give him a knife and board and pail And every fish we catch he'll scale. While we go in to bathe and dress He cleans the evening supper mess.

Besides the river's edge he stays To earn our everlasting praise. He says: "Do anything you wish. I'll get to work and clean the fish!"

Oh, what would be a fishing clan Without this kindly, useful man! Were he to leave us, few, I know, Again would ever fishing go.

He grants to us the long day's fun And gladly does the work we shun. So here's the camp's devoted wish: Long live the man who cleans the fish!

ATTRACTION OF OPPOSITE WORKS TO GOOD ADVANTAGE

It is noticeable that opposites attract. This is Nature's method of keeping things balanced.

If everyone liked the same things or tried to do the same things at the same time, the world would be so topsy-turvy that it would never get over its dizzy spell.

Short people like the tall ones; chubby boys admire thin girls; the physically weak admire the strong.

Sarcastic people cannot take the kind of remarks they give without becoming angry.

Amiable, kind-hearted persons do not notice the sharp, stinging shafts that cut the atmosphere surrounding the sharp-tongued.

Much of the meanness and the intended bitter thrusts of the unhappy people in this world fall wide of their mark because of those who think no evil.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath" is true enough, but most people prefer to return in kind; that is one of the greatest reasons for a strife and sorrow among those who must live together.

One cannot be a hermit and derive anything of value from life. Why not try to help the world to regain its balance by sharing in all things?

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:13. Sun rises tomorrow 4:40.

In the old days they used to put a picture of somebody like Lillian Russell or Anna Held in each package of cigarettes to give the boys a thrill. Now they would have to put in a picture of Clark Gable or Herbert Marshall to give grandma a thrill.

Oh, well, it could have been worse. What if Huey had threatened to make "Every Man a Kingfish."

AN AGED QUESTION
The child took a long look at the old man and asked, "Were you in the ark, grandpa, when the flood came?"

"No, certainly not, my child," replied the aged man.
"Then why weren't you drowned?" asked the child innocently.

Some boys think that dressing for dinner means tucking a napkin in your collar and rolling up your sleeves.

Some people seem to spend half their time borrowing and the other half in not paying back.

The new road to the north hill by way of Neshaunock Avenue is a big improvement over the old one so far as grade is concerned, but it is becoming so rough as to be almost dangerous. It needs surfacing and needs it badly.

A MUSICIAN
Bobbie: My father plays a long-strapped instrument.
Billy: What is he?
Bobbie: He's the bell ringer at the church.

The girl next door says that the things that come to those who wait are seldom what they started waiting for.

The trouble about being happy is that we don't realize that we are, until we are not.

Out of 25,000 persons seeking employment in Pittsburgh, 5,600 never had a job in their life before. There are lots of young people who have never known the thrill of collecting a pay check on Saturday. They are the ones who are hard hit by this depression.

A typical American is one who thinks it would ruin his kid to leave them a fortune and wishes he could.

No, Ethel, international pacts and agreements are not entirely worthless. When properly dyed and chopped up they make marvelous confetti.

Once again the agricultural department announces that we will have the seventeen year old locust with us this summer. It is a reminder that the same prediction was made last year, and the year before. The seventeen year locust is like the last survivor of the Light-Bridge. He's been dying for many, many years.

Warn on Speculation
Public Gambling Again
Wages Held Real Test

Central Press
New York Bureau

By LESLIE RICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 20.—Dispassionate observers of the financial scene are shivering in their boots. And it is because the public again has got the gambling fever. Inflation is taking, we hear. Yes, say the conservative financiers—"taking" the unwary.

A rise in stock market prices is foisted on the public as the real prosperity—say the "sound money" economists.

But prosperity, these men caution, is not a matter of high prices of stocks and commodities, but the sum in real wages that each man receives. As it is more than ten million men in the United States are receiving no wages at all. When one-fifth the manhood of a nation is jobless, there is no actual prosperity.

HOW FAR UP?
Some newspapers carry headlines on how high stock and commodity prices have climbed and sing, "Happy Days Are Here Again!"

Are the happy days to which they refer those days of 1928-29, when credit was inflated to the sky until the bubble burst—and everybody lost?

The conservative economists ask: "Is there any difference now? Have we learned no lessons?"

This time credit has been made plentiful by government maneuverings. Added to which, money has been cheapened.

The balloon is being filled with air again.

SOUND BUSINESS

Prices would rise normally—conservative economists tell us — if trade could flow more freely (and currency stabilization and reduction of tariffs would aid that), if debt and tax burdens were reduced, if men could earn enough, through wider distribution of income, to give them buying power.

None of that has been accomplished.

To the contrary, these deterrents have become worse, rather than alleviated.

Rapid fluctuations of prices even hamper business. Neither man nor corporation knows whether to stock up or not.

An inflationary rise in prices (the conservative economists warn us) in reality is a deflationary process.

When a man finds his wages or his profits by less and less, he is compelled to stop buying. Thus we have the paradox of factories closing while prices advance.

True enough, in the first advances of inflation, people buy heavily, trying to get rid of their money for commodities or other objects that seem to rise in value against the depreciating money. Actually, the objects do not rise in value; they simply depreciate less than diluted money, and overstimulated credit.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD

MONDAY, MAY 20

Today's Yesterdays, May 20, 1384—date when, German legend has it, the Pied Piper of Hamelin (mis-called Hamelin) ventriloquized away all the village's children.

Hamelin DID lose all its children! Responsible, however, was a religious war which killed off the flower of Hamelin youth, the "children's crusades" which drained off others, and a devastating plague which took the rest. In those days death was symbolized by a piper; hence the legend.

May 20, 1506—The man called Christopher Columbus died in Valladolid, Spain aged either 55 or 60. No one knows which. His last wish was that he be buried with the sailors in which he had been sent from Haiti to Spain.

His remains buried three times before reaching their final resting place in Seville Cathedral!

May 20, 1553—Sir Hugh Willoughby sailed from England with three ships on an epochal voyage on which he sought a northeastern passage to Cathay and India.

Two of his vessels reached Lapland, and their crews established the first English relations with Russia. He and most of his men met death in winter quarters.

May 20, 1775—Mecklenburg county, North Carolina declared its independence from Britain more than a year before the 13 Colonies did!

Ironically it was on this same date in 1861 that North Carolina seceded from the Perpetual Union.

May 20, 1736—Samuel Baldwin was buried at the bottom of the Thames, at Lynton, England, in accordance with his last wish. He picked this strange burial place to confound his wife, because she had assured him in their domestic squabbles that she intended to enjoy herself dancing on his grave.

Notable Nativities—Honore de Balzac, b. 1799. He wrote 85 novels in 20 years. His Comedie Humaine is ranked by Shakespeare's better works. Toussaint l'Ouverture, b. 1746, slave who defeated Napoleon's generals to conquer Haiti and become its king.

Lyda Roberti, b. 1909, stage and screen actress. R. E. Ernest M. Stires, b. 1866, P. E. Bishop. Estelle Taylor, b. 1900, cinematress.

vance in business operations in the United States. The average man can keep track of such advances by observing the financial statements of companies.

The comeback since March, 1933, has been remarkable, in many instances.

But there has been no sudden rise in operations or earnings recently. On the contrary, there have been recessions in many industries. And the problem of taxes and interest payments still looms formidably—too formidably in a large number of instances.

(Some of the largest advances in stock market prices have been for securities of companies which are on the verge of receivership.)

The road back from the 1928-29 spree is not an easy one.

And do not overlook—say the conservative economists — that the vast number of unemployed have no buying power.

Likewise, much of the buying power prevalent today is due to government spending, money which in the long run comes out of the pockets of the average man.

South Pole Coal Specimen Given To Penn State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 20.—A new variety of coal is now to be found in Pennsylvania.

It was brought here from the South Pole and placed in the permanent mineral industries exhibition at the Pennsylvania State college.

The piece of coal is one of 15 geological specimens presented to Penn State by Stuart Paine, a graduate of Yale university, who served as dog driver and navigator for the geological party in the latest Byrd expedition.

Paine collected the coal within three degrees, approximately 200 miles, of the pole itself. The other rocks were picked up on the geological trips from the base camp. They consist largely of granites and metamorphosed sandstones.

The coal specimen deposited at Penn State is a very low grade, according to C. W. Robinson, professor of geology. It would run more than 90 per cent ash if it were burned. Its particular interest is the evidence it presents that the antarctic once possessed a warm climate, at least warm enough for the growth of plants from which the coal was formed.

The day Paine picked up the coal thermometer stood at 70 degrees below zero.

HARLANSBURG

W. C. T. U. FAMILY NIGHT

Family Night was a much enjoyed affair at the Liberty grange hall Thursday evening. There was a good attendance of families and friends of the union. Mrs. Mae Locke presided and also led the devotional period of scripture, song and prayer.

The "Welcome Song" was given by Thomas and Jane Brown.

A recitation, "Mother's Almanac" by Harold Johnson, proved a beautiful duet. "Mother" was sung by the McConnell twins. This was followed by songs, "Tell Mother I'll Be There" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" by Harlanburg Men's chorus consisting of 11 voices directed by Prof. Eakin and Miss Esther Heberling at the piano.

There was a play, "We Can Tell You," by the Y. P. B. showing a future W. C. T. U. in the making by using their initial letters.

"Jokes" by Mrs. Mae Peebles created much fun and laughter.

Music, "One Fleeting Hour," by men's chorus.

A play, "Wheels vs. Heels," was a comical description of men preparing for a meal and had to be seen to be appreciated, was given by several young men.

The men's chorus sang "John Peel" and this was followed by an interesting talk by the guest speaker of the evening, Rev. Leslie Bell.

Rev. Jesse Houk closed the meeting with a short talk, prayer and benediction.

During the social hour which followed, refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served.

W. W. G. MEETING

The W. W. G. ladies of the Unity Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Edith Harlan on Monday evening. Mrs. Mabel Kneram led a devotional period and the rest of the evening was devoted to sewing for the missionary box. Later light refreshments were served by the hostess and her aides.

Y. P. B. U. ENTERTAINS SENIORS

The seniors of Scott township high school were delightfully entertained at dinner Tuesday evening by the Y. P. B. U. of the Unity Baptist church in the school building. After dinner many games, directed by Rev. Hammond and Willis Kneram, were played and the event was highly enjoyed.

LOUGHRIG has played in more than 1500 consecutive big league games. Such an athletic achievement takes "wind"—healthy nerves—"condition." Lou says: "For steady smoking I pick Camels. They're so mild they never get my 'wind' or my nerves."

So mild, athletes smoke as many as they please—and that's real mildness!

GOOD NEWS!

Most of the pleasant things in life are doubly pleasant when you're "in condition." That's why it's such good news to hear that Camel's costlier tobaccos are so mild you can smoke all you please. Athletes say Camels never get your "wind."

SO MILD YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT!

"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND" ATHLETES SAY

Of course you want mildness in a cigarette. And the athletes—to whom "wind," healthy nerves, "condition" are vitally important—insist on mildness. Lou Gehrig, baseball's "Iron Man," says: "Camels are so mild they never get my 'wind.'"

George Barker, intercollegiate cross-country champion, says: "Camels are so mild, they don't cut my 'wind' in any way." Bobby Walthour, Jr., star of the six-day bike grinds, says: "I've got to have 'wind' in bike racing. For my cigarette I long ago chose Camels."

Tommy Armour, speaking for golf, Bruce Barnes for tennis, and Betty Bailey for the aquatic sports—all agree: "Camels don't get your 'wind.'"

What this mildness means to you!...It means you can smoke as many Camels as you please. Athletes say Camel's costlier tobaccos never disturb your nerves—never tire your taste—never get your "wind."

Camels COSTLIER TOBACCOS!

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand. (Signed) R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, N. C.

On Court House Hill

ON COURT HOUSE HILL.—Books in the Lawrence county library are undergoing a cleaning under the direction of librarian, Mrs. Winifred James. As the books are on open shelves it is hard to keep them clean. Glass doors would be a big improvement.

Frank Milliken of Ellwood City, 85 years old, called on officials at the court house Saturday. Mr. Milliken makes a regular practice of walking one city block for each year of his age, every time his birthday comes around. His birthday was on last Friday and he celebrated by walking 85 blocks, which is quite a feat for a man 85 years old.

Owing to claims for damages by some residents along the Youngstown road which was recently improved, the County Commissioners have had their solicitor, William McElwee, Jr., looking up data regarding the width of the road as originally laid out. Mr. McElwee has found that the road was laid out in 1805 and extended from Blairsville to the Ohio state line. The width varied at different points from 50 to 60 feet. Mr. McElwee is preparing a report for the county commissioners on the width of the road from the Youngstown hill west, as far as he has been able to compile it from the records.

Drink Water With Meals Good For Stomach Water with meals helps stomach juices, aids digestion. If bloated with gas add a spoonful of Aftershave. One dose cleans out poisons and washes BOTH upper and lower bowels. Eckerd's, New Castle Drug Company.

Under the will of the late Katie Kellner of Wampum, which has been probated at the register and recorder's office, all of her property is left to her son, Anthony Kellner. John J. Smith is the sole beneficiary under the will of his wife, Ella R. Smith. Mr. Smith is named as executor.

Robert L. Wallace is named as executor of the will of the late E. Jane Kifer. Decedent left all her property to her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Baney of Denver, Col.

Inmates of the Western penitentiary, under the supervision of the prison labor division of the State Department of Welfare, turn out approximately 1,800,000 sets of automobile license tags a year. Average output is about 200,000 sets each month, necessitating production at least nine months before the end of the year. The state has invested nearly $200,000 in the tag shop equipment.

Registering assessors in boroughs and townships are expected to finish their party enrollments this week and report to the county commissioners by next Monday, May 27. A copy of the registration list must be hung on the door of each voting precinct.

June term of court will be taken up largely with number racket cases if all the cases on the list go to trial. It is believed, however, that there will be a number of pleas. The grand jury which must first pass on the cases will meet on Monday, June 3.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. May 19. 13 arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 6, loitering 1, drunkenness and disorderly conduct 2, violation of parking rule 1, suspicion 2 and disorderly conduct 1.

It is unlikely that the city council will make any attempt to comply before next year with the new state law which provides a day off each week for firemen. Councilman David O. Davies stated today that immediate compliance would be impossible due to the appropriation for the department having been passed last January. At present there are only sufficient men to man equipment, according to reports. Within the near future it is probable two firemen will be employed temporarily to work during the vacation period. The law giving policemen one day off in each seven becomes effective September 1. Arrangements to comply with the law are being studied by Chief of Police John F. Haven. No extra police are employed during vacation period and it is probable the police will double beats after the day off each week plan becomes operative.

There were 167 cases of contagion reported to the city health bureau during the month of April. One hundred and thirty-five patients had measles, 23 had chickenpox, seven had scarlet fever, one had mumps and the other two cases were diphtheria and typhoid fever.

According to the April check kept on water tests here, 36 examinations were made last month by the city bacteriologist. Twenty-four samples of water furnished by the New Castle Water company were tested and 12 samples, taken from privately owned wells and springs, were examined. Twenty-eight samples of milk were tested.

Eight hundred and sixty-nine tons of garbage were collected, hauled to the garbage plant and burned, according to a report of the department of garbage. This was an increase over the preceding month in addition 100 tons were collected by persons who fed the garbage to pigs.

City Engineer Glenn Throop is compiling a report of 1935 engineering activities for publication in a city pamphlet soon to be issued. Reported there are 44,344 miles of paved streets and 46,98 miles of unpaved streets here. The sanitary sewer mileage is 86,70 miles and storm sewers, 21,053 miles.

Gardening Plots To Be Given Out

City Owned Plots Near Disposal Plant To Be Apportioned Out

Two thousand bushels of tomatoes, 1,000 bushels of peppers in addition to a considerable quantity of beans, peas, eggplant, onions, potatoes, lettuce and other vegetables were grown last spring and summer at the Disposal plant grounds, according to an estimate given today by Frank Nugent.

According to Nugent 64 lots were given out last spring. Each of the gardeners signed a lease in which it was stated that any person caught taking produce from someone else's lot would lose his own lot automatically. No person lost their lots, he added.

He also stated that he worked one-half acre of ground himself. He said that on this lot was grown vegetables which was given to persons in need. Nugent said he kept some of the vegetables for himself. Lots will be given out to applicants some time this week. Every one who secures a lot will be requested to sign the same lease that was in effect last year.

Yet scientific tests on the skins of hundreds of women show Lifebuoy is more than 20 per cent milder than many so-called "beauty soaps."

BRIDE CARRIES GARDEN FLOWERS IN CRESCENT

Something new is suggested in this crescent-shaped bouquet of garden flowers, especially appropriate for the garden wedding. New and original for the same wedding is the use of natural gardenias and acacias for trimming the bridesmaids' hats, as shown here.

Bridenbaugh Is Rotary Speaker

Coach Talks Athletics Today As Club Pays Tribute To School Sports

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh of senior high school was the Rotary Club's guest speaker today as it took formal recognition of the athletic program of the New Castle school system in its luncheon-meeting at The Castleton today.

At its luncheon a week ago the club directed its attention toward the music activities of the schools. Coach Bridenbaugh discussed mostly the football program of senior high, but touched upon other sports.

Rotarian Ray Tannehill, in introducing the speaker, paid tribute to the fine record which New Castle teams have made under Mr. Bridenbaugh's direction.

Featuring the luncheon was a 10-minute musical program presented by two visiting stage and radio artists, John and Lola Davenport, who make their home in Miami, Fla.

During its business session, the club approved a motion recommending to its board of directors that letters be sent to Congressmen Chas. R. Eckart, and U. S. Senators Joseph Guffey and James J. Davis, expressing the Rotarians' appreciation for their efforts in winning for this district the $5,000,000 with which to commence construction of the gigantic valley canal project.

The board will act on the recommendation later.

Monday, May 27, was set aside by the club as the day on which it will pay tribute to Civil War veterans of this district. Fred L. Rentz is handling arrangements, and a general invitation to all veterans of '61 was issued today. Rotarians will provide transportation for the old soldiers. Father Joseph A. Doerr of St. Joseph's church, newly inducted as a Rotarian, will be the day's speaker.

The Youngstown Rotary club also extended an invitation to the local clubmen today to attend a luncheon on Wednesday, May 22, in the Ohio hotel at which Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president in past national elections, will speak.

Recall Hausner's New Castle Visit

Victim Of Plane Tragedy
At Detroit Saturday,
Known Here

In the death of Stanley Hausner, intrepid airman who was killed in Detroit, Mich., Saturday, many of the New Castle Poles feel they have lost a friend. Hausner was known here and several years ago visited here, being entertained by the Polish Falcons.

At a meeting held in the Polish Falcon hall, Hausner described the trip he attempted across the Atlantic which ended when his ship came down onto the water. He was aloft for eight days finally being rescued by a freighter.

Hausner was an unusually modest gentleman, the only time he became voluble being when he discussed his attempts to fly to Warsaw. At the time of his visit here he was then planning for another attempt to fly to Warsaw and only a week ago in Pittsburgh disclosed that he was about ready to try it again.

He fired the enthusiasm of Polish-Americans for his ambition to link the United States and Poland by air attracted them. Most of the money for his trip came from donations in small amounts from thousands of his countrymen.

He died as he was honoring the man for whom he had frequently expressed the highest admiration, Marshal Pilsudski, the premier of Poland, who died recently. Hausner was flying above a Detroit church where memorial services were in progress. Going into a power dive to accelerate climbing speed one of the wings of his plane dropped off and he crashed.

Today

Mr. Joe Louis, His Samurai.

A Woodpecker Sermon.

Hitler's Latest.

Invitation To Shoot.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

A 21 YEAR-OLD DETROIT NEGRO, Joe Louis, tall, with some "white blood, will fight the Italian giant Carnera. Sports writers say he "hits" straight and hard, and takes punishment better than men of his race usually do, at that age. With him, as he travels, nodding gravely to applause, no six or seven other young Negro athletes, a "two fisted" group of admiring young satellites, each with his diamond ring, gold watch chain, diamond cravat pin.

They recall to Mr. Dan Parker, sports super-expert, the ancient, "two sword men" the Samurai of ancient Japan.

This coming individual prize fight between a Negro and the giant Italian, is doubly interesting just now because of the wholesale fight which threatens the Kingdom of Italy, and the blacks of Abyssinia. Mr. Joe Louis Samurai tells you that he (meaning Joe Louis) would make a better king of Abyssinia than any body they can raise down there. Nevertheless, they are in favor of Abyssinia. Complications may arise when the fight draws a crowd made up largely of colored men and Italians.

"Sermons in stones, and good in everything."

There must be a sermon in the Chicago wood pecker that every morning woke his neighbor drumming on a copper drain pipe.

The copper resisted but the woodpecker drummed on until a boy with an air rifle stopped him forever. What is the sermon?

Does it deal with modern efforts to ignore the nature of men, stand old "supply and demand" on his head, and prove that super-intelligence can make the world over in 19 minutes?

NEWS COMING FROM Germany again annoys respectable Britons. Hitler is alleged to have built 450 "vest pocket" torpedo boats to match the small, efficient swift cruisers with which he circumvented Versailles treaty limitations before he threw Versailles into the discard. These "vest pocket" torpedo boats carrying each four deadly torpedoes, traveling 60 knots an hour could disturb British floating commerce and even her warships considerably. Experts say their speed would make them hard to hit. With airplanes going 300 miles an hour, dropping torpedoes 10,000 feet up would they be so easy to hit?

IN NEW YORK CITY, racketeers collect 10 million dollars a year from poultry dealers, having by way of persuasion killed a few of them.

To discourage the racketeering, Police Commissioner Valentine tells merchants to "slug racketeers" at sight and offers to help them get revolvers for shooting.

An old poker player when he "raised" used to say "the best way to discourage vice is to make it expensive."

Commissioner Valentine says the best way to discourage crime is to make it dangerous—for the criminal.

VERY OLD IS THE STORY of the fish in which was found a precious ring that the tyrant of Samos had dropped into the sea, and now is the story from Sidney, about a captured shark that disgorged the tattooed arm of a man. The man had been murdered, his body dismembered, the parts thrown into the sea. The shark swallowed one arm, returned it as evidence and the murderer may hang—invent something more improbable than that!

BERLIN PREDICTS that Russia, having arranged an alliance for mutual defense with France, will now recognize and ultimately pay the money that France lent to the czars about 5,000 million dollars. Guileless American bankers that lent money to Kereisky, the comic opera revolutionary, must not let their hopes rise. Paying anything to the United States is not fashionable in Europe.

Political War To Finish Seen

Supporters Of Wheeler-Rayburn Public Utility Bill To Be Investors' Targets

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—A political war to the finish against supporters of the Wheeler-Rayburn public utility bill was predicted today by Dr. Hugh S. Magill, president of the American Federation of Utility Investors.

The bill, which would terminate public utility holding companies by 1942, would cause middle class citizens to lose most of their life's savings, he said.

Magill declared passage of the bill would cause "an enraged middle class to rise up and smite the sponsors of such an un-American brain child of brain trusters."

"Such threats against the great middle class group," he added, "of which the utility investor is the nucleus, are driving investors into class consciousness."

Magill called upon investors to mobilize their political forces against the measure.

Prof. McKee To Be Speaker At Kiwanis

To Discuss Holding Company Bill In Congress; Plan Veterans' Tribute

Prof. C. W. McKee, Westminster college professor, will speak on the "Wheeler-Rayburn Bill" at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club at The Castleton on Wednesday, May 22. The bill, calling for rigid regulation of holding companies, has been one of the most controversial measures ever to be submitted to congress.

Heroic Youth Saves Two As Boat Upsets

Youth Swims For Over Mile In Ocean And Brings Help To Father And One Other

(International News Service)
LEWES, Del., May 20.—Henry Sheffer, local hotel manager and James F. Walsh, today owe their lives to the bravery of Sheffer's 15 year old son who swam a mile on a turbulent sea to bring aid after their fishing craft capsized.

The boat overturned when all three went to one side to aid in the landing of a fish. Walsh and Nelder Sheffer clung to the side of the boat while the boy struck out for shore and the coast guard station.

Exhausted, the boy was picked up by another youth in a rowboat, a short distance off the shore. They hastened to the coast guard station here. Guardsmen arrived just in time to save Walsh from drowning. They found Sheffer lashed to an oarlock and unconscious. Both men were recovering in a hospital here.

Councilmen Pass Bill Signifying Bond Issue Desire

Step Is Taken Towards Possible Vote On $1,500,000 Proposition

Council convened in the city building today and by unanimous vote adopted an ordinance which signifies the desire of corporate authorities of the city to increase the bond indebtedness of the city in excess of two percent of the last assessed valuation of taxable property in the sum of $1,500,000 for the purpose of constructing a plant and distributing electricity to the public here.

The adoption of the ordinance paved the way for an ordinance calling for a bond issue to be voted upon at either a special or the fall election providing the city council is so disposed.

The motion to adopt the ordinance was presented by Councilman Davies and was seconded by Mayor Mayne.

During remarks Councilman Butler said he believed the ordinance should be left in committee as certain things were developing that might cause council to change their minds.

Solicitor White told council that if the measure was adopted the first step would have been taken should council desire to put a bond issue before council for action. The motion was then made to adopt the ordinance.

Plan "Weeding Out" Of Relief Rolls

Many Work-Relief Recipients Have Husbands Or Wives Working On Good Jobs

(International News Service)
GREENSBURG, Pa., May 20.—Armed with complaints that many work-relief recipients have husbands or wives engaged in private industry, Westmoreland county Relief Administrator Paul M. Keenan today inaugurated a survey, ending May 31, to "weed out" relief rolls.

Meanwhile, the legislative investigating committee, headed by J. H. Dent, adjourned its hearings.

Keenan announced his checkup of employees would determine who is to be dismissed and who retained on work-relief. He said his organization spent $1,874,031.68 to administer relief the first four months of 1935, and that there were less than one-third as many county people on work-relief in April as in January.

Airplane Pilot Keeps His Head

Pilot Brings Plane Down To Safe Landing On East River At New York City

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 20.—Three sight-seeing passengers who had paid $3 each for a plane tour over the city, today owed their lives to the ingenuity of their pilot in bringing his ship down to a perfect landing in the East river after the motor had gone dead 2,000 feet up.

The pilot, Michael Stupelli, 35, of Woodhaven, Queens, kept his passengers unaware of the mishap for 15 minutes, while he maneuvered the plane away from the dangerous canyons around mid-town. Not until the craft was within a few yards of the water did the pilot warn them of the danger. The plane was but slightly damaged.

City May Vote On Time Question

Solicitors For City And County To Peruse Voting Laws

Providing there is no legal barrier, city council may request of the county commissioners that the question of Daylight Savings Time be put before the voters of the city at the next municipal election.

This was indicated today after council received a resolution adopted at a protest meeting against fast time held in the courthouse.

The resolution asked that the city have the question settled at the polls.

Council authorized City Solicitor White to confer with County Solicitor McElwee to determine if there is a legal barrier to the question being carried legally on the ballot.

Charges Against Gross Dropped

Unable To Definitely Connect Frederick Gross With Death Of Five In Family

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 20.—Frederick Gross, 49-year-old Brooklyn bookkeeper, today was freed of homicide charges in connection with the mass poisoning of his family.

The deaths of his wife, Katherine, and their four children are still a mystery.

The charges were dismissed upon the request of District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan who wearily told Magistrate John D. Mason that two weeks of continuous grilling of Gross had not dented his story and the most intensive investigation had yielded nothing more than a "flimsy circumstantial case" against Gross.

Taking first place in all events except the high jump, the Seniors quickly took the lead and were never headed. R. Davidson of the seventh grade kept the outcome of Class B in doubt until the shot put event was completed. NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 20—There has been from time to time a lot of loose talk about some otherwise orderly citizen who has decided to promote a Baer-Schmeling fight on shipboard in the middle of the Atlantic ocean, instead of up a tree or something reasonable like that. The idea proposed at the outset to be heavily comical but either the talk is getting a little looser or I am. Anyhow, I met the man today who wants to do it.

He's got an option on the Berengaria. He's lining up capital for the project, either this year or next. He was down at Asbury Park the other day offering Anck Hoffman $250,000 for Baer's end. But Hoffman was entirely too crafty. He asked $350,000 for Baer's end. It seems he's particular about Baer's end, especially when he doesn't get it.

The "gate" is supposed to take care of those minor details, the witness being limited to a thousand at $500 apiece. Maybe it's 500 at $1,000 apiece. It just doesn't seem to matter.

Neither does the gambling concession nor the bar. They'll more than carry their upkeep but the man isn't interested in chicken feeders. He has something better than that, namely, television with sound effects from the ringside. He's to hire theatres and halls all over the country, charge a dollar admission and show the nation his own prize fight. He says the radio won't be worth its weight in blather, a statement that inclines me to the feeling that there is a man who may have something, after all. I'm for anyone who can out-blather the radio.

As a matter of fact, he's a graduate of one of the leading eastern universities, he's quite a respected and successful lawyer here in town; in the line of thousands.

No, the man isn't crazy, but I guess I am.

When Mahoning and the American Sheet & Tin Plate clubs in the Lawrence loop started the season Saturday in the Seventh Ward, fans and players paid tribute to the late Lefty Parks. # Pirates Defeat Brooklyn, 9 To 6

"Pep" Young Comes Through With Fine Hitting, Guy Bush Chased Again

INDIANS DEFEAT YANKEES, 1 TO 0

By HOMER METZ
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 20.—The late Bill Roper of Princeton was a great believer in what has been called the "will to win." Speaking of one of his Tiger eleven, he said, "a team that won't be beaten, can't be beaten."

If this is true on the football gridiron, it is doubly true on the baseball diamond and time again a flaming competitive spirit has compensated a club for the absence of mere mechanical ability.

Take the case of the current edition of the Cincinnati Reds, for instance, here's a team, composed mainly of sandbaggers and class A bushers that, on paper, at least, doesn't belong in the big leagues. Yet with the season more than a month old, we find this outfit playing acceptable, even snappy ball on all occasions.

Pirates Top Dodgers Yesterday, the league leading New York Giants had to battle nip and tuck all the way to nose out the Reds, 6 to 5, in ten innings at Redland field, Cincinnati. Hal Schumacher hurled for the Pirates and although he didn't finish the game he received credit for the victory which makes his all-time record against the Reds 13 victories and no defeats.

At Pittsburgh, a late rally enabled the Pirates to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9 to 6. The game was a see-saw affair, with the Dodgers getting an early lead, only to lose it. Regain it and finally lose it again.

Philles Ahead The Philadelphia Phillies surprised everyone, including themselves, when they nosed out the Chicago Cubs at Chicago, 3 to 2. A home run drive by Pizzozza, Phil second baseman, with two men on the paths, in the third inning, gave Jimmy Wilson's team its victory.

Out in St. Louis, a large Sunday crowd saw the great Dizzy Dean and the great Babe Ruth engage in another of their highly publicized duels. Ruth made four trips to the plate and didn't get a semblance of a hit. Dean held the Braves to seven scattered safeties, enabling his Cardinals to win by a 7 to 3 count.

In the American League, the big thrill of the day came at the Yankee Stadium with Charley Ruffing of the Yankees and Stewart of the Cleveland Indians engaging in an old time pitching duel. The Indians won out in the eleventh, 1 to 0, on two hits, a walk and a sacrifice fly.

At Washington, the Detroit Tigers found their long missing batting eyes and massacred the Senators, 16 to 6.

The Chicago White Sox won another game from the Boston Red Sox. This time the score was 6 to 5. The victory was the sixth in a row for John Whitehead, Chicago rookie.

The Athletics made it three straight over the St. Louis Browns when Roger Cramer slapped a home run over the right field fence in the seventh. The score by 6 to 5.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOSE J. MAHER, JR.

BASEBALL BRIEFS

When Zeke Bonura stole third and then raced home on a double steal in the Chicago-Athletic game of May 15, it gave the big Italian the first thefts since donning a major league uniform. The American league clubs are using southpaws against the Cleveland Indians at every opportunity. So far the Indians have appeared weak against the crooked arms. In that 13-inning mound duel between Tom Zachary of Brooklyn and Waite Hoyt of the Pirates last Thursday, in which the former won by a 2-0 score, the combined ages of the two pitchers amounted to 100 years. Hoyt is 36 while Zachary is two years older. Hoyt was in professional baseball when Cookie Lavagetto was only two years old; now they are playing together.

Figure this one out, if you can. It occurred in a recent game between the Detroit Tigers and Philadelphia Athletics. How can a team make two consecutive doubles and one base on balls with an error thrown in, nobody caught off base, yet not score a run? Here's the answer for those of you who couldn't get it: In the second inning, Higgins got up for the Athletics, fanned, led, hurled good ball and with even most of the substitutes getting hits, the softball team ran up nine runs in the first two innings, were leading 17-0 in the fourth inning, and at the end of the seventh contest were out in front by a 31-5 score.

In tennis, Captain Bob Grier, started by winning 6-2, 6-2, and the other Titan single men, Kelso, Elliott and Maxwell won in order. So matches, Grier and Sowash won and Maxwell and Elliott won.

Barberry bushes harbor a rust that attacks wheat. For that reason they are undesirable in wheat-growing sections.

early as May 8 both Mel Ott and Bill Terry had stolen bases to their credit. Neither was able to pilfer a sack all during last season. Times certainly can alter the baseball setup. Walter Johnson won 28 games one season only to have to hold out the following spring to get a raise from $6,000 to $7,000. Imagine Dizzy Dean, Carl Hubbell or Lefty Gomez signing up for $7,000 now. Casey Stengel and Babe Herman come from the same town, Glendale, Cal. Marvin Owen's hands are so large he can hold seven baseballs in his right hand.

Richard J. (Dickey) Pierce is credited with introducing the bunt hit in the summer of 1886. In a double-header at Philadelphia last summer, Gabby Hartnett, veteran catcher, lost 14 pounds, while Babe Herman melted away ten pounds. When Charley Hollocher was with the Chicago Cubs from wood native to Cuba. Lefty Grove made his professional baseball debut with Martinsburg of the Blue Ridge league in 1920 and lost to Hagerstown in the first game he pitched, 4 to 1. Lefty allowed only six hits in that game and fanned ten men. He finished the season with a record of three victories and the same number of defeats, striking out 60 men in 59 innings.

Favorite Of Scotland Jack McLean Eliminated In British Amateur Tourney

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, England, May 20.—A major sensation came early in the British amateur golf championship today when J. H. Bryant, a comparative unknown from Blackwell, beat the second favorite, Scotland's idol, Jack McLean, one up.

McLean, who entered the opening round as the chief threat to the champion, Lawson Little of Scotland, could only blame himself for his early elimination. He persistently muffed his mashie-niblic shots, and landed in bunkers even on short holes.

Little favorite started as a 5 to 1 favorite, but his stock went up with McLean's defeat. The first American to go into the second round was J. H. Forsman of the Winged Foot club, who had a close call in nosing out W. F. Pharaohy at the 19th.

The American contingent was reduced to 13 when Robert Barbour of Paterson, N. J., failed to appear and was officially scratched. Mass. followed Forsman into the second round, dropping D. O'Donnell Higgin, Canadian entry, 5 and 3.

Wampum Defeats Shelby Socials In League Opener

Local Nine Takes 9-3 Shellacking Here In Lawrence County League Game

ELLWOOD CITY, May 20.—Shelby Social Club baseball team did not get off to a very auspicious start in the Lawrence County League, when they took a 9-3 shellacking from Wampum at Ewing Park field here on Saturday afternoon.

The game was considerably hampered by the high wind which caused dust clouds all through the game. The locals who were unable to get in even one practice session showed evidence of this. The former got a triple and the latter two doubles. Hennon smacked out a double for Wampum.

Hospital Aide Campaign Ends

Most Successful Is Report Of Chairman To Annual Meeting

GRAND TOTAL FOR DRIVE NOW $1,614.25

Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide society has completed its annual membership campaign with gratifying success. The united and wholehearted effort of members and leaders among church, social and civic organizations and regional groups has been rewarded with a larger membership fund than in several years past.

The annual meeting of the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide society was held Saturday, May 18, and the following report from the chairman of the 1935 membership drive was received:

"To each of you I wish to express my appreciation and thanks for your encouragement, support and loyal work. To my co-chairman, Mrs. O. J. Shannon, I am particularly indebted. She has spent hours of her time and has done more work than most of us realize in organizing the county. Her results are very gratifying—the following places have sent in memberships:

Waldo, New Wilmington, Bessemer, Edenburg, Hillsville, Gardiner, Stop, New Bedford, Harlansburg; $74.50.

"Our work in the city of New Castle was in six divisions:

1—Church organizations—Mrs. W. K. Huges, Mrs. David Long, Mrs. Wm. Moody; $70.00.

2—Big gifts and writing to out of town members—Mrs. S. W. Perry, Mrs. M. Feuchtwaenger, Mrs. D. C. Lindley; $703.00.

3—Clubs and organizations—Mrs. Jas. D. Crawford; $90.00.

4—School teachers—Mrs. Roy Long; $102.00.

5—Committee on new members—Miss J. Morgan, Mrs. A. C. Hoyt. Found 146 new members exclusive of teachers whose solicitation they suggested; $77.00.

6—Canvass of the city was done by the following clubs who did their work quickly and efficiently: Wino-dausis club, Woman's club, Spoon club, Mahoning Garden club, Girls' club, College club, Art club, Lawrence County Garden club, Council of Jewish Women, The Reading Circle, Current Events club, Reading Circle of '91; $324.25.

Total from city and county, cash in bank, $1,440.75; additional pledges, $173.50. Grand total, $1,614.25.

"We are specially indebted to the New Castle News for generously with space devoted to our publicity. We also appreciate the memberships taken by clubs and organizations of the city. Most of these clubs have given us pledges which are to be paid later in the year and are not included in the cash report. Some of our county districts have not handed in full reports. From these and from clubs, church organizations and other cards not yet reported on we expect to have approximately two hundred dollars to report at our next meeting.

"It has been a pleasure to work with you and for Jameson Memorial Hospital."

Respectfully submitted, MRS. CHARLES H. JOHNSON, JR., Chairman.

Eroe Is Witness In Accident Case

Tells Of Circumstances Surrounding Crash In Which Little Tot Was Killed

Assemblyman W. J. Eroo, Jr., of New Castle, was a witness in the coroner's probe Friday evening in Butler, Pa., of the accident near Butler, Pa., in which little three-year-old Shirley Ann Easley, of Bachman's Corner, was killed. The driver of the truck, which struck a parked auto, on whose running board, the little tot was standing, was placed under the charge of involuntary manslaughter. He is Harley Rodgers, of Titusville, Pa.

Eroo testified that he was enroute to Saxenburg, and was almost struck by the truck as it rounded a curve. In order to avoid crashing into the Eroo car, Rodgers is said to have swerved the truck and crashed into the car of George Easley, of Butler, R. F. D., grandfather of the little child. The car was overturned and the child caught beneath it.

Card Of Thanks We wish to thank our relatives, friends and neighbors for kindness and sympathy extended during the illness and death of Mrs. Mary D. Dash; also thanking those who sent flowers or donated cars.

SUGGESTION IS MADE

New Castle News Co. New Castle, Pa. Gentlemen:

We wish to make a suggestion which may help relieve the unemployment situation in our city. We are very much interested in the welfare and progress of New Castle.

There are several thousand unemployed here who are on the relief rolls. We are of the opinion, with a little co-operation among several local industries, that with elaboration may mean employment to many now idle.

We take liberty in stating the U. S. Steel Corporation played a major part, with the help of other industries in our city, to make it the up-to-date city of today.

A few years ago the city of New Castle was well known the world over. This was because of the world's largest tin mill (Shenango Works) was located here. At the same time other plants of the Corporation operated here, i. e., American Can Co., New Castle Tin Mill and Carnegie Steel Mill. The last two mentioned plants each employed about 1,500 employees when operating full capacity, men idle today.

We realize how much it would benefit our city if these two plants would resume operation.

The suggestion we advocate to relieve unemployment here is: That the Union Brewing Co. of New Castle use cans for containers for beer sold in this district.

We have seen beer cans, tasted the beer therein, contained, and found it as good as beer from glass bottles. In investigating canned beer we found the following advantages over glass beer:

1. The can occupies half of the space that the bottle would occupy in the refrigerator.

2. The can is more quickly cooled. The brand of beer it contains, unlike the bottle beer with a paper label pasted upon it, which in many cases becomes wet, falls off and causes a possibility of substitution.

3. In shipping full cases it reduces the freight rates fifty per cent.

5. No empties to return, for when cans are emptied they are to be thrown away, the same as one would vegetable cans.

6. The use of cans as beer containers would mean continuous production of tin.

In investigating this matter we feel eventually most, if not all, breweries would adopt this system of packing. Why not now? If so, this is what we think may take place:

(a) The Union Brewing Co. will get the jump on many of the breweries in this district, for the can beer seems to be in demand in this steel district.

(b) We think the American Can Co. plant of New Castle, Pa., would agree to make the cans, meaning greater production, consequently more employment.

(c) We are told the type of tin used in making such cans is being produced at the Shenango plant, which would also mean greater production, consequently more employment.

We feel certain if the Union Brewing Co. were to use cans for containers it would increase the steel production in the tin mill and can production at the can company. By so doing we would prove to U. S. Steel Corporation we in this district want to help boost the steel industry.

The above suggestion is made purely to help relieve the unemployment situation in our city.

Very truly yours, THE COSMOPOLITAN LEAGUE OF PENNSYLVANIA D. E. Claff, Chairman.

Progressives Set Aside Third Party

(International News Service) FOND DU LAC, Wis., May 20—Wisconsin progressives, on the advice of Gov. Philip F. La Follette, today set aside immediate hopes of launching a third party in the national political arena.

The progressive party born here just a year ago, has not attained sufficient strength beyond the state to become a significant force in national politics. Gov. La Follette said in addressing a birthday party celebration here yesterday.

In surveying the first year, however, the party's founder saw the coming of "a realignment" in American politics.

'Cop' Climbs Tree; Liberates Bird

Like the Canadian Northwest Mounted, who always get their man, Patrolman Robert Dukes of the city police force always gets his bird—whether it be quail, ringneck or sparrow.

This morning police headquarters received information that a bird was caught in a tree on the Public Square.

Patrolman Robert Dukes was assigned to investigate the report. When he arrived he found the report to be true so he climbed the tree, unfettered the bird and it flew away, after chirping its thanks.
